

WASP—HS

MAW and MMW-Financed Project Research Output Report

Title of project:

Project dates (YYYY-MM to YYYY-MM): _____

Name of contact person: _____

Email address of contact person: _____

Project members:

Names, titles, and universities/institutes of project team members, with PI(s) marked with (*):

I. Narrative Report

1. Briefly describe the key findings from your project.
8-10 bullets, max 6 000 characters.

2. What implications does your project have for research, practice, teaching, or policy?

8-10 bullets, max 6 000 characters.

3. What next steps does the project team have planned as a result of this work? Consider, for example, any planned publications, grant applications, spinoff projects, dissertations, or courses.

8-10 bullets, max 6 000 characters.

II. Research Output

List any talks that you or your project team have given to non-academic audiences (e.g., schools, libraries, companies) about your WASP-HS-supported research.

1. Peer-reviewed original articles

Surname, X. X. (Year). Title. Journal, volume(number), start page number-end page number. <https://doi.org/xxxxx>
Example: Doe, J., Smith, B., & Jones, D. (2024). AI chatbots and assessment higher education. AI & Society, 23(2), 323-325. <https://doi.org/23479832560>

2. Peer-reviewed conference contributions

Surname, X. X. (Year, Month Day–Day). Paper title [Paper presentation]. Conference Name, City, State, Country. <https://doi.org/xxxxx> or URL
Example: Andersson, P. (2023, April 11–12). Postdigital futures [Paper presentation]. Annual Conference on AI and Health, Berlin, Germany. <https://doi.org/23479832560>

3. Peer-reviewed edited volumes

Surname, X. X. (Year). Title of work: Capital letter also for subtitle (First Initial Editor Name. Editor Surname, Ed.). Publisher. <https://doi.org/xxxxx>

Example: Persson, S. (2024). Autonomous Systems. (M. A. Ivarsson & H. Engström, Eds.). MIT Press. <https://doi.org/23479832560>

4. Peer-reviewed books and book chapters

Chapter Author Surname, X. X. (Year). Chapter or article title. In Editor First Initial. Second Initial. Editor Surname (Ed.). Book title: Subtitle (edition number if not the first, pages of chapter). Publisher. <https://doi.org/xxxxx>

Example: Philips, C. & Sundström, P. (2022). Complex Intelligent Systems. In P. C. Smith & J. Bryant (Eds.), Advances in research on autonomous systems (4th ed., p. 115-134). Routledge. <https://doi.org/23479832560>

5. Other publications, including popular science books/presentations

Surname, X. X. (Year). Title of article. Title of Magazine, volume(number), pages. <https://doi.org/xxxxx> or URL
Example: Kim, A. (2022). Ethics in community-based participatory research. Popular Science, 4(1), 6-12. <https://doi.org/23479832560>

III. Engagement in broader society

1. List any expert panels that you or your project team have served on that are in some way related to your WASP-HS-supported research.

Surname, X. (Year). Role.
Example: Lindberg, H. (2024–2025). European Commission Expert Group on Artificial Intelligence.

2. List any talks that you or your project team have given about your WASP-HS-supported research to non-academic audiences (e.g., schools, libraries, companies).

Surname, X. (Day month year). Role. Name of event.

Example: Falck, B. (5 April 2022). Panelist at the Royal Swedish Academy's Symposium: AI i Science.

IV. External funding

List any grants that you or your project team have received that will build on your WASP-HS-supported research.

Surname, X. (Year(s) funded). Funding agency (Grant number). Name of project. Amount of grant.

Example: Collins, W. (2023–2024). Riksbankens Jubileumsfond (F21-4958). AI and Power. SEK 800 000.